VOLUME XXXI NO. 32

GLEICHEN, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 26, 1938

SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 PER YEAR

REPORT OF LAST MEETING OF TOWN COUNCIL

A regular meeting of the town council was held with Mayor Purcell in the chair and Councillors Macdonald, Mitchell, Dehayes and Menzies present. A letter was read from Councilor C. Thompson asking to be excused from the meeting on account of being out of town. By leave authorized the sale of certain lots were given first and second readings at a previous meeting and had not been approved by the department. It was given a third reading and passed unanimously. The secretary reported that the tax roll had been held, there were no bids and the town had bid all the properties in. One lot had been redeemed prior to the sale. Registered notices had been sent to all interested parties on August 26th.

A license to operate the James Estate pool room situated on lot 3 block 7, had been applied for, and the approval of the council was required by the department. The application form had been forwarded to the council for approval. The meeting approved the license.

The secretary reported that a number of houses had taken by the town through tax recovery proceedings. These houses were occupied by the former owners and are now required to pay rents to the town. This money is applied against the taxes owing. The council decided that the rent should be in each case.

The secretary was instructed to take up the matter with the sheriff in connection with the houses that had to be made. One property owner had asked that the rent from his house, which the town collects, be allowed him as he had some repairs to make and was short of funds. The council agreed to this. Another house owned by the town and occupied was required to be repaired as the roof leaked badly. Orders were given to have the roof repaired.

Moved by Councilor McDonald seconded by Councilor P. Deakay be appointed deputy mayor for the ensuing three months. This resolution carried. A circular had been received from the Bureau of relief and public welfare in connection with the granting of material aid for 1938-39, and a resolution is required should assistance of the senior governments be desired. The following resolution was passed: Moved by L. Michael and seconded by J. A. Menard that the assistance of the senior governments to provide social assistance is required by the town. A man waited on the council and asked that he be provided with further relief as he found it quite impossible to get along without assistance. He was provided with the necessary forms to be filled out by himself and the matter will be dealt with by the relief committee. A woman had applied for a loan of coal as she found it impossible to buy coal on the amount of relief she was receiving from a town in British Columbia. This matter was also left for the relief committee to deal with.

The following accounts were presented to the meeting for inspection and approval. They were ordered paid:

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. STRANGE, Director of "Crop Testing Plan"

"I don't believe this Thatcher will stand up. In a few years the wheat will get it."

"Why do you think that?" I said to my friend John Skeptic.

"Well he said, 'Ceres was boosted to the skies to resist the wheat rust which was remembered that after a few years it had no more rust-resistance than Marquis no I guess Thatcher will go

FARM WOMEN PREPARE FOR QUILTING BEE

Mrs. B. Stutta was hostess to the ladies of the U.F.W.A. at their last meeting which was opened by singing. The roll call was answered by "I'd like to Know" by twelve members and one visitor. The members kept themselves busy during the meeting ending wool for the quilt it is planned to make. Business was carried on by the president who occupied the chair. Discussions on program committees of entertaining husbands occupied some time. Mrs. McKeever sat on an impromptu speech contest which proved interesting and most laughable. It was reported to the meeting that one of the members Mrs. Oliver had met with an accident and the latest report was she was recovering nicely. A bouquet of flowers was ordered sent to her. The members were invited to the home of Mrs. McKeever for a special quilt block day on Thursday, October 26. After a sumptuous lunch served by the hostess the quilting was begun again on November 3rd for quilting bee and a pot luck dinner at 12 o'clock.

HALLOWEEN AND APPLES

Famous for its apples and apple orchards and a wide variety of products of the farm, Canada has a abundance of essentials to celebrate Halloween in the traditional manner of the fall of Halloween pre-dates christian area, and its Druidical origin. The mistletoe, is a practical variety of the apple tree. The custom of decorating the table at Halloween with black and white, or black and gold, black and orange, periwinkle, favorite colors of the ancient Celts. The yellow had its origin in the yearning of the earth for green apple, or the green ear of crops of the yellow sheaf. The lack represents the sabbie robes of a Druid neomancer who was that color in tribute to Shyban, the god of death and evil spirits was the yearning of the earth for green ear of crops of the yellow sheaf. The lack represents the sabbie robes of a Druid neomancer who was that color in tribute to Shyban, the god of death and evil spirits was the yearning of the earth for green ear of crops of the yellow sheaf.

For the Druids were great magicians. The words come from the Gaelic druid, a magician. The Druid were a religious order among the ancient Celts, and their office appears to have combined that of physician, wonder-worker, historian and law-giver, the order comprised, three principal grades—bard, vates, and propheta—the Druids represent the priests. It is not known whether the Druidism was a pre-Celtic religion taken over by the Celts from the natives of Europe, but the Celts themselves ascribed its origin to the British. The fact that mistletoe was laid sacred has led to the belief that Druidism was originally a form of tree worship, and why not the apple tree with its growth of fruit and mistletoe? However that may be, Canada with an abundance of apples and generous supply of farm products can afford to celebrate this ancient feast in a royal manner, even if witches ride on broomsticks on that night and imps of air and hold riotous carivals among the leaves. Halloween in Canada is particularly identified with apples, and this year's crop ought to give zest to a record celebration.

The same way."

"For my part John," I said "I think you're badly mistaken. In the first place Ceres was not bred as a rust-resistant wheat, and it never had been tested by the plant breeders against rust. It simply had been found, under several very mild rust conditions, to have a little better resistance than Marquis."

"Thatcher on the other hand is an entirely different thing. It was bred by one of the ablest plant breeders in the world, specifically to resist wheat rust. It was tested in a most rigorous way for years in the laboratories against all the strains of rust known and on farms it was not harmed by the very severe stem rust epidemics of 1935 and of this last year."

"Plant breeders all say they will be greatly surprised if Thatcher is ever damaged by the present forms of wheat stem rust."

BURG LARS BREAK INTO TWO STORES MAKE HAUL

Sometime during Friday night burglars entered Shoreline Store on A. W. Gilbert's hardware store. A party they entered the hardware store first, gaining admission by forcing the cellar window. Once inside they took some small change from the cash register, which was left open. The safe was also open but there was no money in it only books. They took from the burglar's a heavy hammer and going to Shiprite broke through the cellar window by forcing the iron bars protecting it off. Using the hammer they broke the dial off the safe and opening it took about 100, but overlooked a much larger amount. It is thought they also took some articles from the store. A couple a week ago in the early morning hours Night Watchman Lester saw one suspicious characters about the store and proceeded to investigate one of them then started to run like Mr. Lester. The suspect was followed in a car and got away. An investigation showed that an attempt had been made to enter Ramsay Mercantile store through a window high up on the east side of the building but the alertness of Mr. Lester prevented robbery.

MULTIPLYING GOOD SEED

Two years ago the Okotoks Juniors Wheat Club started operation with eighteen members and eighty bushels of registered wheat variety known as Red Bobs 222, supplied by the Alberta Wheat Pool. P. Baggitt, leader of the Okotoks club, has figures to show that in two years members of the club produced fifty-two thousand bushels of pure seed.

This is the type of seed improvement work that some fifteen hundred men, who are members of the seventy Junior Wheat Clubs operating in Alberta this year, have been doing better the output of wheat from Alberta for the year.

Scientific agriculturists have commented on the fact that wherever a Junior Wheat Club is operating, improvement is soon noted in the seedling sown in the district. Due, in large measure, to the activity of the Junior Wheat Clubs in Alberta farms are steadily improving from year to year.

SMALL ADVERTISEMENTS HAVE THEIR PLACE

Some businessmen whose establishments are not gigantic are to harbor the belief that because the possibilities they envision for their businesses will not warrant the use of large advertising space in the newspaper, advertising will not pay in their case. No belief was ever more erroneous. Small advertisements constantly placed in this newspaper week after week will bring new customers and build prestige for any business, whatever its present size. Small advertisements are a real asset as well as large ones, and the pulling power of an advertisement is gauged more by how it is written and what it advertises than by the amount of space it occupies. Some of the largest businesses in the world today, whose success is directly attributable to their persistence in newspaper advertising, started with the tiniest space it was possible to buy. Small ads started in fact, with classified advertisements.

Many an individual has been surprised at the results obtained from a small want ad offering some desirable article for sale. Nothing appeals to people like the opportunity to buy something at a bargain price. Goods for which the owner has no further use often is exactly what some other person is looking for.

THE STORING OF VEGETABLES FOR WINTER

(Experimental Farms Notes)

The essential points in the successful storage of vegetables are a favorable temperature, good ventilation and a sound well matured crop. The proper storage temperature varies somewhat for the different vegetables but generally speaking it should be low enough to prevent growth of the vegetables and also the fungi and bacteria which may cause decay. Root crops and cabbage keep best between 35 and 40 degrees and will withstand a slight amount of dampness. Pumpkin, Squash and onions should be stored in a dry place and will keep well at temperatures up to 45 degrees. Free circulation of air is essential to carry off the accumulated moisture given off by the stored vegetables. Ventilators should be left open and working as possible during early winter.

Only sound, well matured vegetable should be expected to keep well in storage. The use of fine and will aid materially in the successful storage of such roots as beets, carrots and pumpkins. A damp, soggy cellar is inclined to be damaged should be used, but if the storage room is dry, very slightly dampened seed should be used.

If only a small quantity of cabbage is to be stored they can be suspended by the roots. If the quantity is large they can be piled preferably on slatted shelves. Some of the outer leaves should be left on to prevent the heads from touching. Turnips (Swedes) can be piled in bulk like potatoes or may be stored in soil. Onions should be thoroughly dried before being stored in a dry place. Pumpkin, squash and vegetable marrow should have the stems left on and require a dry location.

Collective Security

Justice In The End Is Sure To Prevail

The phrase "collective security" has come to have a bitter taste in men's mouths. Yet in the long run there is no choice between collective security and ruin. In the long run the life and property of peaceable, non-offending men and women of peaceable, non-offending nations will be made safe or civilization will die. And it will not die. It is a far tougher organism than those who assail it and those who betray it are willing to believe. It has come out of pain and sweat and sacrifice. It has come out of the minds and hearts of men and women, turning away from ease and softness to do hard tasks. It has come out of hopes and dreams and visions. It has been defended on battlefields and on sinking ships and in the narrow room of poverty. Those who have built it, these will not sustain it—the humble and obscure as well as the powerful—are slow to anger, but, like the mills of God, when once aroused they grind exceeding small. They can be driven back and defeated for a day, a week, a year, but not forever. There is justice in the world, checked in men's hearts, and let there be no doubt of it—in the end it will prevail—N.Y. Times.

Cats Live In Luxury

Nothing Too Good For Six Feet Of English Woman

In a nine-room house overlooking the sea at Barton, ten miles from London, England, six cats live in the lap of luxury. Each has its own room, bed and dishes, and a housekeeper is employed to look after their every want. Four times a week a taxi from Bournemouth brings their food—the best steak, fish, rabbit, milk and cream.

The cats are the property of Mrs. Agnes Burrell of Bournemouth. Originally she had only one cat, but it so captivated Mrs. Burrell, a childless widow, that she became the extraordinary lover of cats that she is today. They are her main interest in life and nothing is too good for them.

One Leeds resident reaped a neat little profit from England's mid-week war scare. The first five feet of a nine-foot trench, Henry Varty dug to shelter his family from air raids, turned out to coal. He shovelled out two tons and there was no sign the seam was near exhaustion.

Rewarded For Kindness

Ballet Dancer And Hospital Attendant Receives Large Fortune

It's a story strange as fiction with a typical surprise ending—this true-life tale of how a former assistant theatre manager and a ballet dancer were kind to an eccentric old woman and reaped an estimated $1,000,000 reward.

The woman was 70-year-old Mrs. Edna Morris of Alim House, a quaint hamlet of film houses who became known as "New York's Campaign Movie Fan."

A feminine hermit, she died friendless and alone in her three-story brownstone house in West 88th street.

Her will disclosed she had left securities and $80,000 in jewels to Rosalie Spatcher, a ballet dancer, and the residue to William Reilly, former assistant manager of the Roxy Theatre. They had "helped to make the recent years of my life more pleasant," Mrs. Elliott wrote in her will.

Reilly, whose sudden wealth lifted him from a $24-a-month hospital attendant's post, said attorneys told him the estate was valued at $1,000,000.

He said when he first met Mrs. Elliott in 1927 he thought she was poor—she wore old-fashioned dresses with leg o'mutton sleeves—and arranged for her to have a front row seat every Thursday when the theatre changed its program. Afterward he would discuss the show with her briefly.

The theatre closed temporarily in 1931. Reilly lost his job. He never saw Mrs. Elliott again. She then began attending Radio City Music Hall and during the season of 1934-35, Miss Spatcher often walked over to chat with the lonely old woman in the front row seat. She never knew Mrs. Elliott's identity or saw her outside the theatre.

It was some time before Reilly learned of his fortune. He said he had dodged Mrs. Elliott's lawyers for several days—thinking they were trying to serve him with a summons.

Considered World Record

Way In Which Britain Has Lent

The Municipal Journal, London, says nearly one thousand persons are being moved every day in Great Britain from slum houses to new and decent dwellings.

To-day one-third of the population are in post-war houses. Since the end of the war over three and a half million new houses have been provided in England and Wales, and of these more than a million have been built by local authorities.

What other country can show such a record in this sphere of social improvement?

Strong protest against the practice of some car drivers in speeding past other cars temporarily out of service on the highway has been expressed by officials of the Alberta Motor Association. Special attention to this condition has been drawn by officials. After pointing out that motorists persist in passing other cars when there is not 200 feet of visible road in sight, the patrol officials also say that there is a lack of courtesy when a car is stopped on the roadside, due possibly to a flat tire, and other motorists pass without slackening their speed. "In many cases children are in the parked cars and parents realize the constant menace when the car has stopped." Another precaution to avoid accidents is that cars entering a highway from a secondary road must come to a full stop. Some accidents which have occurred in this province during the past year might have been avoided if the act
